

The amount of calls I have received just since the No-Call list is being challenged has risen so that I'm jumping to answer the phone several times each evening. Caller ID does not help because they just say "out of area" and we have a son who lives "out of area" so I wouldn't know. We get calls from "sound alike" charities, poll takers, etc. and I find it an intrusion. I know who I want to donate to, and where to look if I want to buy something. Please support and enhance the "No-Call" system.
